Arapahoe County CSU Extension hosting free renewable energy workshop Join CSU-Extension, Xcel Energy, City of Englewood and City of Littleton May 4

LITTLETON, CO --- Temperatures are rising and you may be interested in renewable energy to help keep your home cool and comfortable. Learn important information about renewable energy options at a free workshop.

Join Arapahoe County CSU Extension, Xcel Energy, City of Englewood and City of Littleton May 4 for this interactive workshop. The workshop will be focused on tips for available renewable energy options for residential properties.

When: 7 – 8:30 p.m., May 4

Where: Englewood Civic Center, Community Room, 1000 Englewood Pkwy, Englewood, 80110

Attendees will learn important things to do before making an investment in renewable energy, options for solar and wind, how to successfully navigate the process from procurement through installation and how to evaluate the economics of renewable energy to make the best decision for your home.

CSU-Extension also will demonstrate their free online solar calculator that provides costs and benefits for those considering a renewable energy investment.

For more information and to RSVP, contact Tim Aston at tim.aston@colostate.edu or call 303-738-7907. Learn more about Arapahoe County CSU-Extension at <http://arapahoe.extension.colostate.edu/>.
