

Unincorporated Income and Poverty

Income

Household income information is now provided by the American Community Survey. In order to generate information for the unincorporated portions of the county, data from the five-year estimates for 2012-2016 were aggregated from census tract information. The first chart shows the median income of households for the entire County and for the unincorporated areas within County Commissioner Districts. For the entire County, the unincorporated area's households had a median income almost $14,000 higher than the County average. The most dramatic difference among the Commissioner Districts is the much higher median income for the unincorporated portion of District 1, nearly $33,000 higher.

District 4 had over half of the unincorporated households with incomes less than $15,000, while District 2 had more than half of the unincorporated households with incomes of more than $200,000.

Poverty

Poverty, of course, is related to income. The Census Bureau uses the poverty thresholds defined by the Office of Management and Budget, which vary by the size of the family. The chart shows the estimated number of families in the unincorporated portion of each District. Since these numbers are relatively small, the sampling error can be significant. However, they are the best information we have on poverty for the unincorporated portions of the County.

Consistent with the income figures, District 4 had more than half of the unincorporated families below the poverty line. District 1 had only 70 families in poverty in the unincorporated enclaves.

Arapahoe County Colorado Demographics

The table compares the families in poverty in the unincorporated portions of the County in 2010 and 2016. For total families, the number declined by about 130 families over the six years. Almost 90 percent of the families had related children under 18 years of age and nearly half were headed by a female householder with no husband present.

Year	All families	Married-couple families	Female householder, no husband present	All families with related children under 18 years	Married-couple families with related children under 18 years	Female householder, no husband present - with related children under 18 years
